Dear Tribal Member:

Enclosed is a copy of the latest Draft #22 of the proposed amendments to the Constitution of the Tribe, along with a summary of the key amendments proposed by the Committee. The Tribal Council appointed the Committee to debate and draft proposed amendments to the Constitution.

The Committee worked for more than 2 years discussing ways to improve and strengthen the Constitution and government operations of the Tribe. The Committee welcomes all comments and suggestions from the public. After the Public Hearings are held, the Committee will make a final recommendation to the Tribal Council. The voters of the Tribe will make the final decision on all amendments to the Constitution.

DON'T BE A VICTIM of SCAM

There are TWO SCAMS that have been going around lately:

- 1. TELEPHONE SCAMS supposedly from IRS, Social Security, your Bank, and "other" Governmental Agencies.
 - No one from the Federal Government will call you asking for Personal Information (Date of Birth, Social Security, etc). HANG UP on them... Do not listen to their lies.
 - IF they want you, they will call HNPD...
- 2. EMAIL SCAMS asking you for MONEY; usually through a Social Media site (Facebook, Date.com, etc) pretending to be someone they are not (your Nephew, Son or Daughter, or Old Friend, OR someone who "Loves" you)
 - These SCAMS try to make you feel bad as they usually tell you a SAD Story..... Emotions cause us to do silly things, so do not fall for these SCAMS...

When you receive one of these types of calls, and you are not sure if it is Real or a Scam; contact HNPD directly 769-1024 and we will help you figure it out.

DO NOT release any information to these callers, and DO NOT send them money. If you do, its too late.*

Golden Nugget Online Gaming Awarded Arizona Tribal Events Wagering Operator License

Submitted by: Shanna Salazar | Hualapai Tribal Administration

Tribal Council met with the Tribe's lawyers today in a confidential executive session to discuss legal matters and strategy in connection with its event wagering license.

"The Hualapai Tribe is pleased to have been approved for an event wagering license in Arizona and looks forward to this opportunity to earn additional gaming revenue to support the Hualapai people," said Dr. Damon R. Clarke, Chairman of the Hualapai Tribe. "With an outstanding partner in Golden Nugget, we will establish a top-tier event wagering operation through our Grand Canyon Resort Corporation. The Golden Nugget brand is certainly no stranger to the residents of Arizona. With the Las Vegas and Laughlin casino properties bordering our state, Golden Nugget has been providing legal sports betting and casino wagering entertainment to Arizonans for over 70 years. We are pleased to be associated with such an iconic brand and anticipate this being a long and prosperous partnership for the Hualapai Tribe."

EXECUTIVE SESSION and OPEN MEETING LAWS

Some organizations have closed meetings. This means that only members of the organization can attend the meetings. Or in the case of boards and committees of these organizations, only members of the boards and committees can attend board and committee meetings. This newsletter article does not concern these types of organizations, but those who operate under open meeting laws—county and city governments, school boards, homeowner and condo associations and others organizations where guests may attend the meetings. This article will primarily address government bodies and board meetings of homeowner and condo associations where state laws require meetings to be open to members.

Open Meetings

Open meeting laws allow members of the association or members of the public to attend meetings of their governing bodies. In the case of city councils or school boards, constituents have the right to attend and observe the meetings. But they do not have the right to speak, make motions, or vote. Often governmental bodies set aside a portion of the meeting to hear comments by their constituents, but they usually are not required to do so.

In board meetings of Homeowner and Condo Associations, members usually have the right by state laws to attend the meetings. However, they too are only allowed to observe the proceedings of the board. Unless the board allows them to speak, they have no right to speak, to make motions or vote at the board meetings.

When attending board meetings, those observing should be respectful, quiet, and attentive. If they are allowed to speak, they should do so only when they have been allowed to speak. If members observing become disruptive, the board has every right to ask them to leave.

Executive Session

Sometimes during a public meeting something of a very sensitive nature may arise. It may have to do with discipline of employees, discussing an employment contract, or consulting with the attorney. State law allows and provides for the governing body to go into executive session or a closed meeting. This means that everything said or done in executive session is secret or confidential. Anyone who breaks the confidentiality of executive can be disciplined by the organization.

To go into executive session a member must make a motion, it needs a second and is debatable. It takes a majority vote to adopt. If the members vote to go into executive session, all nonmembers must leave the room until the board votes to end executive session. Minutes should state that the members voted to go into executive session and the reason for doing so. It also might be helpful to include the time the board went into executive session and when it ended executive session. For example the minutes might state:

"The board voted to go into executive session to consult with the attorney about the legal implications canceling the contract with the XYZ Company. The executive session began at 10:15am and ended at 10:45am".

Usually boards only go into executive session to discuss a matter and not take action. All minutes of executive session can only be approved in executive session. Since minutes state actions adopted rather than discussion, only those actions approved in executive session are recorded in those minutes.

Let's say a school board is deciding whether to renew the contract of the superintendent. A member of the school board has received some information that he feels will affect the decision. But this information should not be made known to the public. The member of the board would move to go into executive session. If adopted, the chair would state that the meeting is now in executive session. The chair would either ask everyone to leave or they might retreat into another room in the building with only the board members present and anyone else that they feel needs to be there—like the attorney or the board secretary. At this time the member would reveal the information. The board would discuss it only. Someone moves to end the executive session. If that is adopted by a majority vote, then the board returns to the open meeting and proceeds either with discussion or with a vote. Everyone in the executive meeting is sworn to secrecy. If any of the information is divulged it could open the board to a lawsuit by the superintendent. The member who leaked the information could also be removed from office or perhaps sued.

The purpose of executive session in governmental bodies is not to hide important information from the members or the public, but to protect the innocent. In this case the information given about the superintendent may be false. It would be very harmful to the superintendent to have his good name smeared by these falsehoods if made public. It would also expose the board to criticism and possible legal action for spreading falsehoods.

Those serving on governing bodies should use executive session judiciously and wisely. It should never give the appearance of doing something behind the backs of the constituents or the members.

Next Time You Fill Out a Job Application • What Does Bondable Mean on a Job Application

Submitted by: Jessica Powskey | Hualapai Health, Education & Wellness | www.bizfluent.com

THERE IS A QUESTION—ARE YOU BONDABLE? DO YOU KNOW WHAT WHY IT'S THERE? SHOULD IT EVEN BE ON THE JOB APPLICATION? READ ON.

What Does Bondable Mean on a Job Application?

By: Stephanie Faris | Reviewed by: Jayne Thompson, LLB, LLM.

Trustworthy employees are important for any business, but in some industries, they are essential. If you hire people to clean houses or handle large sums of money, you stand to suffer a huge blow if you have a criminal on staff. Criminal background checks and drug screenings can help, but you still need added protection to offset the financial loss you'll suffer if something happens. But in order to cover one of your new hires with that type of insurance, or bond, you'll need to make sure they have a clean record to qualify. For that reason, you'll see the question, "Are you bondable?" on many job applications.

What Does Bondable Mean?

If you're in the construction industry, the word bondable likely calls to mind a type of sandable glue used when working with wood. But in a hiring environment, it refers to the people you're hiring. A bondable person is someone who qualifies for a fidelity bond, which is issued on each employee working for you. Each bond has a maximum value and covers any assets that may be stolen by the person covered by the bond. A business owner can buy a bond for his entire business and/or employees and subcontractors who do work for that business. A fidelity bond is a type of surety bond, which means it serves as a protection for its holder.

Are You Eligible to Be Bonded?

Each state has its own bonding requirements, with businesses and contractors responsible for ensuring compliance. You'll need to show that bonds are in place in order to get permits for projects, no matter which state you live in, but in states like Washington, general and specialty contractors are required to obtain a continuous contractor's bond. When asked if you're bondable on your application, it simply means: Is it likely the bonding company will look at your background and see you as a trustworthy employee? Each insurer has its own requirements related to that, but in general, you should have a clean criminal record. Depending on the laws in your area, a bonding company may also pull your credit report.

What Other Background Checks are Needed?

Bonding companies aren't the only ones concerned about an employee's background. If an employee doesn't work out, the employer won't get back the surety premiums paid, so the business has a responsibility to check this information, as well. For that reason, you may be asked to take a drug screening test, as well as submit to a criminal background check. If you've cleaned up your act and still can't pass these tests, it might be worth looking into the U.S. Department of Labor's Federal Bonding Program, which provides Fidelity Bonds for at-risk employees. These bonds cover the first six months of employment and offer the coverage you need to answer yes to the "Are you bondable?" question on your application.

What Does Bonded Mean on a Job Application?

By: Heather Skyler | Reviewed by: Michelle Seidel, B.Sc., LL.B., MBA

If your job requires working with a lot of cash or valuables, your employer may ask that you be bonded. Bonding is a type of insurance for the employer. It protects business owners from employee theft and also compensates the employer in cases of property loss caused by an employee.

Bonding an Employee

Bonding and insurance companies offer bonds, usually called fidelity or surety bonds, that will cover damage or theft by a person, business or subcontractor. If an employee commits theft, the employer files a claim and an investigation follows. If the employee is found to be at fault, the bonding company pays the employer. It's a good idea for business owners to bond their employees if they work with expensive equipment or cash in order to protect the company from possible bankruptcy due to employee theft. Smaller businesses and startups are particularly at risk, since a loss can hit them harder than it would a large company with more resources.

Fidelity bonds can be a great marketing tool if your employees work in customers' homes. If clients know that your employees are bonded, they feel more comfortable hiring your business because they know there is recourse in the event of a theft.

Different Ways to Bond Your Employees

One way to bond employees is to provide a list of covered employees to the insurance company. This is called a Schedule Fidelity Bond, and whenever you hire someone new or an employee leaves, be sure you update this list. If you accuse an employee of theft and want reimbursement, his or her name must be on that list.

A Blanket Position Bond is another type of bond that might work better for your company, particularly if there is high turnover or if you're frequently adding people to the organization. This type of bond provides protection for certain positions in the company rather than specifically named employees.

A Primary Commercial Blanket Bond covers every employee in the company. If several employees steal at the same time, they are all covered under this type of bond.

If an employee is known to have been involved in past fraudulent activities, he or she will be rejected by a bonding or insurance company. If you find out about criminal behavior during the hiring process, it can help you weed out untrustworthy candidates.

What Types of Positions Should Be Bonded?

Accountants and financial managers should generally be bonded because they work with large sums of money. Employees involved in research and development that have access to valuable intellectual property should also be bonded. Finally, any employee who works in people's homes, such as housecleaners, plumbers, electricians and the like, should be bonded.

How to Bond Your Employees & Use Blanket Liability Insurance

By: Grant Sullivan

You may run checks on your employees before you hire them, but you cannot always predict how they might act in the future. You can, however, insure your business to protect against issues such as dishonesty, theft and fraud by taking out a bond or blanket dishonesty insurance. This also tells your customers that you are looking out for their interests as well.

Protecting Your Business

Ask yourself who in your organization has access to funds, handles money, or has any opportunity for fraud. You will be able to secure either a named individual bond (covering any person you name) or a blanket bond (covering dishonest acts of all employees). Evaluating your employees and their roles will help you decide which bond is right for you.

Look at your books. Examine the level of cash flow that is taking place and look for areas where an employee could manipulate incoming or outgoing funds without drawing much attention. When you isolate these areas, ask yourself how much could potentially be taken, then use that figure for the bond or insurance amount you will buy.

Contact your insurance agent to request a quote. Before you buy a bond, or add an endorsement to your business policy, ask about the options available, and what types of fraud and dishonesty are covered. Will the bond cover theft from customers? Are owners, executives, and board members covered?

Decide whether you need a blanket or named individual bond. A blanket dishonesty bond covers all employees, while a named individual bond covers only specific employees. The more employees you have accepting or disbursing funds, the more likely it is you will want to buy blanket coverage. If you are using a named individual bond, you will need to submit an application with the individuals' personal information and signature of a company representative.

Advertise it. If you are a business that bonds employees for the protection of your customers (like a contractor or home health/hospice business) you may want to note this on your business cards and marketing materials. This will help customers feel at ease allowing you into their homes.

What Do You Need to Be Bonded for Cash Handling?

By: Valerie Fox

Employers who hire people who will be responsible for handling cash often want more than the applicant's word that they won't mismanage or even steal from the business. One of the ways business owners can protect themselves from potentially unscrupulous employees is to require them to be bonded. For applicants, that means becoming familiar with what is needed to become bonded.

Surety Bond Company

If you must be bonded to handle cash, you may have to secure the bond through a surety company. According to SuretyBonds.com, you may be legally required to purchase a surety bond depending on your position or where you work. Staffers at the bonding company will evaluate your background to determine if you are eligible for a bond. Be prepared to pay an application fee, which can vary widely, starting at $100. In addition to the money you will need to pay the application fee, you will also need to have money to pay the premiums for your bond.

Good Credit

One of the things you will need to be bonded to handle cash is good credit. The company that provides you with the bond will do an extensive background check on you, and that will include checking your credit. They will be looking for things such as how much debt you are carrying and how often you have been late paying your bills.

Solid Work History

As part of the background check, bond providers will also check your work history. This will allow them to get an idea of your work ethic. Specifically, your work history will be evaluated to see how long you have stayed on previous jobs. The bond provider will also evaluate your work history to determine if you have been terminated from a job, and the reason.

Criminal History

You will also need to have a clean criminal history. Bond providers will review your criminal history as part of the background check. Considering you are trying to get a bond to be able to handle cash, your work history will be checked to see if you have ever been arrested and/or convicted of theft.

Fidelity Bonds

If you have committed a fraudulent or dishonest act, or have demonstrated other behaviors that cast doubt on your honesty then you may be considered high-risk and unable to secure a bond.

If you know that a background check will turn up negative information, you may consider a fidelity bonds. The Federal Bonding Program is designed to help people who are considered high-risk because of criminal acts they have committed, such as theft. The bonds are issued to employers, free of charge to cover high-risk employees. Among those who can be helped by securing fidelity bonds are convicted felons, substance abusers and people with bad credit. Sometimes, people in these groups cannot secure jobs handling cash. So the fidelity bond is a way of giving people who have run afoul of the law a second chance.■

FIRE DISTRICT BOUNDARY HEARING

The Northern Arizona Fire District will be conducting a public meeting regarding its proposed boundary changes on Monday, October 4, at 6:00 pm, at their administration office, 2600 E. Northern Avenue in Kingman.

The proposed changes would remove our school from the Northern Arizona Fire District and place it in a newly formed fire district that would include the Valle Vista, Hackberry, and Truxton areas. The plan allows for firefighting vehicles and equipment, as well as fire station buildings, to be transferred to the new fire district.

BOOKMOBILE RETURNS (SORT OF)

The Mohave County Library is bringing out its mobile library to our school once again. They will visit monthly, instead of bi-weekly, and will be setting books out in the gym, rather than having the actual Bookmobile on-site.

Current scheduled dates for the Library visits:

October 20	January 19
November 17	February 16
December 15	April 20
	May 18 (returns only)

AZ HEALTH ZONE RETURNS TO VALENTINE

After a year of being unable to visit our school, the AZ Health Zone staff is back again this year! They will be visiting monthly to provide our students with lessons and activities geared towards healthy living and eating.

Currently they are scheduled for the last Monday of every month. We are excited to have them back working with our students! Your student should have brought home their monthly newsletter this past Monday.

HOW CAN I HELP MY STUDENT?

- Complete and return the Impact Aid Survey – This form is required for us to complete our annual application for Federal Impact Aid funding. This grant amounts to hundreds of thousands of dollars of our school's budget each year, so it is critical we receive the forms back as soon as possible.
- Ask your student specific questions – Instead of "How was school today?" which can be answered with a simple, "ok," consider asking questions like, "What did you learn in math today?" which needs a more detailed answer. You can also ask your students to show you what they learned, allowing them to become the teacher, which can further solidify their learning.
- Talk to your student about marijuana and vaping – Now that recreational marijuana has been legalized in Arizona, there is a lot of confusion about what is and is not permitted. Possession and use are not permitted by anyone under the age of 21, and neither is permitted on school grounds by anyone, regardless of their age. The same is true for vape products and paraphernalia. Have these conversations, so students can avoid the severe consequences associated with these illegal items.
- Remind students about items to leave at home – All classes were reminded earlier in the year to keep gum and cash at home. To that list we have added sunflower seeds, and now that they are in season, pomegranates, because of the mess that is made when they are on campus.

UPCOMING EVENTS

- 10/04 – NAFD Public Hearing, 6pm
- 10/07 – Impact Aid Survey Forms due
- 10/12 – School Board Meeting: 4:30 pm
- 10/14 – Last Day of First Quarter

TAKE 3 ACTIONS TO FIGHT FLU

Influenza (flu) is a contagious disease that can be serious. Every year, millions of people get sick, hundreds of thousands are hospitalized, and thousands to tens of thousands of people die from flu. CDC urges you to take the following actions to protect yourself and others from flu.

GET YOURSELF AND YOUR FAMILY VACCINATED!

A yearly flu vaccine is the first and most important step in protecting against flu viruses.

Everyone 6 months or older should get an annual flu vaccine. Protect Yourself. Protect Your Family. Get Vaccinated. #FightFlu

STOP THE SPREAD

Take everyday preventive actions to help stop the spread of flu viruses!

Avoid close contact with sick people, avoid touching your eyes, nose, and mouth, cover your coughs and sneezes, wash your hands often (with soap and water).

ASK YOUR DOCTOR ABOUT FLU ANTIVIRALS

Take antiviral drugs if your doctor prescribes them!

Antiviral drugs can be used to treat flu illness and can make illness milder and shorten the time you are sick.

Caring for Young Women Who Are at High Risk for EARLY-ONSET BREAST CANCER

A Summary of Screening, Counseling, and Testing Guidelines

Health care providers can play a critical role in helping to reduce the incidence of hereditary breast and ovarian cancer by identifying patients with elevated risk. The following guidelines can help identify young women who may have a higher risk for hereditary breast and ovarian cancer and detect early-onset breast cancer among these women. The recommendations are based on current peer-reviewed evidence for screening, counseling, and testing.

Who is at high risk for early-onset breast cancer?

According to the American Cancer Society (ACS), women who are at high risk for early-onset breast cancer include those who:

- Have a known BRCA1 or BRCA2 gene mutation.
- Have a first-degree relative* (parent, brother, sister, or child), second-degree relative (aunts, uncles, nieces, or grandparents), or third-degree relative, which includes first cousins, with a BRCA1 or BRCA2 gene mutation.
- Have a lifetime risk of breast cancer of about 20% to 25% or greater, according to risk assessment tools https://www.cdc.gov/cancer/breast/young_women/bringyourbrave/health_care_provider_education/risk_assessment_tools.htm that are based mainly on family history.
- Had radiation therapy to the chest between the ages of 10 and 30 years.
- Have Li-Fraumeni syndrome, Cowden syndrome, or Bannayan-Riley-Ruvalcaba syndrome, or have first-degree relatives with one of these syndromes.

What are the current genetic counseling and testing guidelines for women at high risk for breast cancer?

The ACS recommends genetic testing for women at high risk, as defined above, to look for mutations in the BRCA1 and BRCA2 genes (or less commonly in other genes such as PTEN or

*Risk is higher with more than one affected first-degree relative and if the affected relative was diagnosed at a young age.

TP53). Although testing can be helpful in some situations, providers need to weigh the pros and cons with the patient. The ACS strongly recommends that women first talk to a genetic counselor, nurse, or doctor who is qualified to explain and interpret the results of these tests.

The U.S. Preventive Services Task Force (USPSTF) recommends that women who have one or more family members with a known potentially harmful mutation in the BRCA1 or BRCA2 genes should be offered genetic counseling and testing. Women with an identified increased risk should be referred to a genetic counselor, who can further evaluate the risk based on family history, discuss the pros and cons of testing, and arrange for BRCA testing if the patient is ready to proceed.

What are the current screening guidelines for women at high risk for breast cancer?

The National Comprehensive Cancer Network (NCCN) recommends screening for women with a BRCA1 or BRCA2 mutation or a first-degree relative who has a BRCA1/2 mutation, even if the patient has not been tested for BRCA1/2 mutations.

The NCCN recommends that women at high risk get a mammogram and breast MRI every year starting at age 25 to 40, depending on the type of gene mutation and/or youngest age of breast cancer in the family. The NCCN also suggests that women at high risk have clinical breast exams every 6 to 12 months beginning at age 25. These women should also consult with a health care provider to weigh the pros and cons of 3D mammography and learn how to identify changes in their breast.

The ACS recommends that women at high risk should get a mammogram and breast MRI every year. ACS suggests that women at high risk begin their screening at age 30 or an age recommended by their health care provider and continue for as long as they are in good health. Since there is limited evidence for the best age to start screening, ACS believes that this decision should be shared by the patient and her health care provider to ensure personal circumstances and preferences are taken into account.

What are the possible next steps after screening women at high risk for early-onset breast cancer?

The strategies to manage and reduce risk for women with a confirmed genetic susceptibility to breast and ovarian cancer include earlier, more frequent, or additional and intensive cancer screening modalities (such as breast MRI); risk-reducing surgeries (such as mastectomy or salpingo-oophorectomy), and medications (such as tamoxifen). Personal preference is an important factor in patients' decisions about risk-reducing strategies.

National Substance Abuse Prevention Month

Submitted by: Jessica Powskey | Hualapai Health, Education & Wellness | www.youth.gov

National Substance Abuse Prevention Month

youth.GOV

This October marks the second annual National Substance Abuse Prevention Month – an observance to highlight the vital role of substance abuse prevention in both individual and community health and to remember those who have lost their lives to substance abuse. The Office of National Drug Control Policy joins President Obama in celebrating National Substance Abuse Prevention Month and encourages prevention efforts this month and all year long to ensure the health of teens and young adults.

Why do we recognize National Substance Abuse Prevention Month?

Millions of Americans suffer from substance abuse, which includes underage drinking, alcohol dependency, non-medical use of prescription drugs, abuse of over-the-counter medications, and illicit drug use.

- Young Americans aged 12 to 20 account for 11 percent of the country's monthly alcohol consumption.¹
- Approximately 23 million people aged 12 or older used illicit drugs in 2010.²

Prevention strategies targeting the root of the problem are essential to curb drug use and help people lead healthier lives. Early intervention helps prevent substance abuse and reduce the negative consequences of addiction before they occur. Through community-based efforts involving youth, parents, educators, and government officers, we can strengthen the support systems that deter our Nation's young people from drug consumption and improve both academic performance and workforce readiness.

Each dollar invested in an evidence-based prevention program can reduce costs related to substance use disorders by an average of $18.³ Recognizing the power of prevention, the White House Office of National Drug Control Policy (ONDCP) released the 2012 National Drug Control Strategy in April to advance the Administration's prevention efforts.

The Strategy includes new developments in efforts to reduce drug use and its consequences and outlines a research-based blueprint to reduce the rate of drug use and drug use consequences by 15 percent over five years (2010-2015). Throughout National Substance Abuse Prevention Month, ONDCP will orchestrate Federal prevention activities and support participation in the observance within states and communities.

Prevention Resources:

For Coalitions and Professionals:

- Communities That Care (CTC) Curriculum – a training program that equips communities with information to create a public health prevention approach to target youth problem behaviors such as violence, delinquency, and substance abuse. Includes Power-Point slides that cover strategic consultation, training, and research-based tools.

- National Survey on Drug Use and Health (NSDUH) – a primary source of information on the prevalence, patterns, and consequences of alcohol, tobacco, and illegal drug use and abuse in the general U.S. civilian non-institutionalized population, age 12 and older.
- Binge Drinking and Youth: What Everyone Needs to Know – a webcast that describes the problem of binge drinking and the dangers it poses to youth, including alcohol dependency. Examines the subcultures and behaviors that support binge drinking in youth and highlights prevention, early intervention, and treatment options.
- National Strategy for Suicide Prevention 2012: Goals and Objectives for Action – a report outlining a national strategy to guide suicide prevention actions.

- Behavioral Health Among College Students: An Information and Resource Kit - Coming in February 2013 to SAMHSA's Store – a resource developed for college and university prevention practitioners, health center staff, and administrators. The kit focuses on behavioral health issues among young Americans enrolled in colleges and universities.

2021 Red Ribbon Week: October 23rd - 31st

Submitted by: Jessica Powskey | Hualapai Health, Education & Wellness | www.getsmartaboutdrugs.gov

Red Ribbon Week is Oct. 23-31

<https://www.getsmartaboutdrugs.gov/get-involved/red-ribbon-week>

RED RIBBON WEEK, which is celebrated annually October 23-31, is the nation's oldest and largest drug prevention awareness program.

Red Ribbon Week was started after the death of Drug Enforcement Administration (DEA) Special Agent Enrique "Kiki" Camarena, who in 1985 was brutally tortured and murdered by drug traffickers he was investigating in Mexico. As a tribute to SA Camarena, high school friend, Henry Lozano and Congressman Duncan Hunter, created "Camarena Clubs" and the wearing of a red ribbon to show their oppositions to drugs. In 1988, the National Family Partnership coordinated the first National Red Ribbon Week with President and Mrs. Reagan serving as honorary Chairpersons. Since then, the Red Ribbon campaign has taken on national significance, and NFP continues to coordinate the campaign for families, schools and communities across the nation each year. Wearing red ribbons during the month of October continues to represent our pledge to live drug free and honors the sacrifice of all who have lost their lives in the fight against drugs.

Celebrate Red Ribbon Week in your community or your child's school, and raise awareness of living a drug free life. Take the opportunity to talk to your kids about drugs.

Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts can earn a patch. Learn more at the DEA Red Ribbon Patch Program.

Check out the DEA Red Ribbon Toolkit with fact sheets, promotion ideas, a sample Red Ribbon press release, Red Ribbon Graphics, and Red Ribbon video, all available to download. And don't forget to follow #DEARedRibbon on Twitter for all the latest updates on DEA's Red Ribbon Week celebration!

National Bullying Prevention Month youth.gov

October is National Bullying Prevention Month, a time to focus and raise awareness on bullying. During this month, many groups across the country will release new resources, campaigns, and efforts aimed at bringing awareness to the issue of bullying.

What is Bullying? Bullying is unwanted, aggressive behavior among school-aged children that involves a real or perceived power imbalance. The behavior is repeated, or has the potential to be repeated, over time. Bullying includes actions such as making threats, spreading rumors, attacking someone physically or verbally, and excluding someone from a group on purpose. Bullying can also take place through technology, known as cyberbullying. Examples of cyberbullying include mean text messages or emails, rumors sent by email or posted on social networking sites, and embarrassing pictures, videos, websites, or fake profiles. There are many other types of aggressive behavior that don't fit the definition of bullying. This does not mean that they are any less serious or require less attention than bullying. Rather, these behaviors require different prevention and response strategies.

National Bullying Prevention Month Beginning in October 2006, PACER's National Bullying Prevention Center, along with the National Education Association, National PTA, American Federation for Teachers, and the National Coalition for Parent Involvement in Education, hosted the first awareness week sponsoring events and activities to raise awareness of the issue of bullying throughout the month. PACER realized that students, parents, and people throughout the country needed to become more aware of the serious consequences of bullying. The point of National Bullying Prevention Month was to transform a society that accepts bullying into a society that recognizes that bullying must – and can – be addressed through education and support.

Over the past several years, the event has only grown in awareness and in its reach. "It has grown beyond our expectations," says Paula F. Goldberg, PACER's executive director. "It has become a major event." National Bullying Prevention Month is now recognized in communities across the United States, with hundreds of schools and organizations signing on as partners.

This year, Bullying Prevention Month features many new initiatives. Among the many, PACER is releasing several new toolkits and public service announcements. The NEA is releasing new training modules to help education support professionals address bullying. DoSomething.org is releasing new findings from their online survey about bullying. And, the "be more than a bystander" campaign with the Ad Council officially launches on StopBullying.gov.

There were various events in October in which you can get involved to help prevent and raise awareness about bullying:

- Run, Walk, Roll Against Bullying, October 6, encourages communities to stage events to show support against bullying. This year, organizations from Las Vegas, Nevada to Punxsutawney, Pennsylvania, and from Jonesboro, Arkansas to San Diego, California are staging Run, Walk, Roll Against Bullying events to raise awareness in their communities.
- Unity Day, October 10, is a time when people across the country wear orange as a show of support for students who have been bullied. Ellen DeGeneres wore orange on her TV show during last year's Unity Day.
- Youth can enter the Stop Bullying Video Challenge: Encourage the youth in your life to submit original PSAs, 30 to 60 seconds in length, that showcase ways they are taking action against bullying and promoting a culture of kindness and respect in their communities. The deadline for submission was October 14, and the top prize is $2,000. Full details about the contest, including submission guidelines and rules for eligibility are available at stopbullying.challenge.gov.

With all of these new resources and attention, it is a great time to consider how you can help raise awareness about bullying and take action to stop it. Tell us what you are going to do by engaging on Facebook and Twitter.

Additional Federal Resources:

- The Office of Adolescent Health, within the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services has resources on healthy relationships in adolescence, including how adolescents and those who care about them can help prevent or stop bullying.
- StopBullying.gov, a special initiative from the Department of Health and Human Services, provides information and resources from government agencies on how to prevent, respond, and take action against bullying.
- The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention's Striving To Reduce Youth Violence Everywhere (STRIVE) initiative provides communities with the knowledge and resources to prevent youth violence, including bullying.

Domestic Violence Awareness Month

Domestic violence takes place in our nation every minute of every day, occurring just about every 15 seconds. Most Americans don't realize just how real domestic violence is and how many lives are affected by it.

Most of these cases are left behind closed doors. That's why the Domestic Violence Awareness Month was introduced to not only educate and raise that awareness but bring the support and strength that domestic violence victims need.

Domestic Violence Awareness Month

Domestic violence awareness month was first introduced back in 1981 by the National Coalition Against Domestic violence.

It was created not only to bring more awareness to others but to connect and unify the millions of affected victims that had been battered due to domestic violence.

Its hope is to break the chains of violence that currently have such a strong grip on our nation.

Every year, right around 10 million people become victims of domestic violence, which equates to just about 20 people every minute. Those are some pretty big and startling numbers.

It affects not only women, but men and children, of all different races, status, religions, and culture. No one is immune to it.

Domestic violence shows itself in a number of different forms, whether it's punching, slapping, choking, or threatening, manipulating, yelling and many others. No matter the situation, domestic violence is never okay.

Violence Against Women Act

Huge strides have already taken place ever since 1994 when the Violence Against Women Act was put in place.

So many programs, services, and shelters have been made available to domestic violence victims, thanks to the issues that had been addressed to our legislation.

Just between the years of 1993 and 2010, the overall domestic violence rate had dropped dramatically by nearly two-thirds, and that's not all.

State legislation and laws have been reformed to tackle certain issues such as dating abuse in the workplace, employment discrimination, stalking and more.

When is Domestic Violence Awareness Month?

Ever since 1987, October has been the month where domestic violence and its victims are observed. The purple ribbon is used for a number of other important causes, but it's also in honor of domestic violence victims and support for the growing awareness.

Domestic violence is usually done in secret, but let's shout it from the rooftops.

For the whole month of October, we are capable of making a change by informing others and providing our resources to go towards services that help domestic violence victims.

Be an Advocate (Ideas)

Another alarming statistic for us to look at is that as many as 3 out of 4 Americans know of another person that has, or is being abused by another individual, but a lot of times nothing is done about it. Action needs to take place, where an advocate is willing to speak up when others can not.

If you know of someone that is being abused, are you willing to be their voice? It's time that we stand up to domestic violence and tell it enough is enough.

Especially during the month of October, make sure that you support domestic violence survivors and help to get the word out about the destructive threat that domestic violence has on so many homes all across America.

Pay attention because soon it will be breast cancer awareness month!

Domestic violence is never okay, no matter the circumstances. If you or someone you know is in desperate need of help, contact the National Domestic Violence Hotline at 1-800-799-7233 or TTY 1-800-787-3224.

Q: When is the right time to ask about hospice?

A: Now is the best time to learn more about hospice; to ask questions about what to expect from hospice services. Although end-of-life care may be difficult to discuss, it is best for family members to share their wishes long before it becomes a concern. This can greatly reduce stress when the time for hospice is needed.

Q: Do I have to be in a nursing home to receive hospice services?

A: No, most patients are able to remain in their homes with their families with the support of the Hospice team.

Q: What services does hospice provide that the nursing home staff is not already providing?

A: Hospice services provide additional expertise, support, and care for the resident and their family.

Additional care is provided in the following ways:

- Hospice nurses with expertise in end of life care to improve comfort and quality of life
- Support for the whole person—physical, emotional, mental, and spiritual
- Trained volunteers to provide companionship and respite for caregivers
- Complementary therapies such as music and spa treatments
- Grief and bereavement support during the dying process and for the following 13 months

Q: Does the doctor taking care of my loved one remain involved?

A: Yes, your physician remains involved as a critical part of the team. Hospice staff develops an individual plan of care for you or your loved ones, making recommendations to the physician for implementation.

Q: How does hospice work to keep the patient comfortable?

A: Many patients may have pain and other serious symptoms as illness progresses. Hospice staff members receive special training to care for all types of physical and emotional symptoms that cause pain, discomfort, and distress. Hospice staff members work with the patient's physician to ensure that medication, therapies, and procedures are designed to achieve the goals outlined in the patient's care plan.

Q: What role does the hospice volunteer serve?

A: Hospice volunteers are generally available to provide different types of support to patients and their loved ones, including: running errands, preparing light meals, staying with a patient to give family members a break, and lending emotional support and companionship to patients and family members.

A: Beacon of Hope Hospice uses family satisfaction surveys to invite feedback on the performance of our programs, as well as a confidential compliance hotline. (1-855-753-4673)

LETOYA ESCALANTI

SUPERVISOR

TOUR COUNTER DEPARTMENT - GCRC

Gamyu'

Hello, my name is Letoya Escalanti I'm an enrolled Quechan tribal member from Winterhaven California. I'm also half Navajo. My father is full Quechan, my mother is full Navajo. I was born in Cortez Colorado but was raised on the Quechan Rez pretty much all my life. I'm the youngest and the only girl of 5 I have 4 amazing older brothers.

In 2010 I moved to Peach Springs and was hired as an Ambassador at GCW. I was a little nervous because I didn't know anyone and I wasn't really a people person, but eventually I got over my fears because of the awesome bosses I had at that time and the staff they made me feel welcomed, I slowly learned about the Hualapai culture and the amazing place I worked at Grand Canyon West. I enjoyed the culture classes by numerous elderly members of the tribe. I was honored to meet and greet people from all over the world. Through the rain, snow, and heat we were out there making sure our guests felt welcomed, shout out to the Ambassadors. After 2 years unfortunately I had to leave and go back home.

The beginning of 2013 I came back and was then hired with the Tour Counter Dept. It's been a journey here at this dept I have learned a lot and grew so much. With all the customer service trainings and the dinosaurs of GCW I work with Monica and Flo they all have coached and guided through some of the difficult times I've encountered, I truly am grateful for them. In 2015 I was promoted to lead concierge I was always on top of my work and employees I always tried my hardest to make the work environment enjoyable for everyone mainly for our guests. 2017 I was nominated to be a supervisor, I was intimidated in the beginning but thought why not? So, I gave in and was selected. Ever since I've held this title as supervisor. With this position, I have become someone who is more outgoing and not afraid of taking the initiative. I go above and beyond for my crew, dept, and guests. All the employees that have worked under me I'm very thankful for all the hard work and dedication you have provided, to my current crew you guys are troopers we all get along very well and have become work family. I enjoy coming to work knowing I have a strong crew and we can get those sales in no matter what comes our way we always get through it. I still have a lot of learning to do in my position, but I know I will get to where I need to be soon.

I would like to thank the corporation and the Hualapai tribe for allowing me to serve you all these years at GCW. I will continue to dedicate my time and effort to you. BE SAFE!

CLARENCE MANAKAJA

FRONT OF HOUSE TEAM MEMBER

DIAMOND CREEK RESTAURANT - GCRC

Hello! Good morning, good afternoon, and good night!

Its your friendly 2 spirit neighbor Clarence Manakaja A.K.A Clarebear, I'm from Peach Springs, Arizona and have lived here all my life and maybe I will be here for a bit longer. I am Marla Bradley (Walema) and Joel Bradley Sr's oldest child; I have 3 siblings, a sister named Neoni Bradley along with 2 brothers Joel Bradley Jr and Jayson Bradley. Who I love and adore with all my heart and soul; along with my other family members my grandparents Richard Walema SR. and Wilma Walema (Redbird). My aunt Irene Evanston (Walema) and her 5 kids and my uncle Richard Walema Jr. and his 4 kids.

Gamyu'

I have been with the corporation for 3 years and come December 1st will mark 4 years. I have been previously employed at the Walapai Market as a deli/barista worker who slowly went into cashier then turned rover; I worked for the market for a year but due to unforeseen circumstances in my personal life; it resulted in me resigning from the market.

I have many goals for myself and with that my ambitions are strong for the future I one day want to have. One of ambitions is to have knowledge in a lot of fields, I'm constantly reading and doing research to expand my horizon that I soon hope to one day use in my future plans; I one day would love to own a business in the beauty, entertainment, and fashion industry that promotes self-love, self-acceptance, self-expression, and self-worth. Regardless of past failures, trauma, and down falls: I want to show the younger generation no matter what adversity or adversaries they face, they can prosper from it and continue to create a future they wish to have.

Working with the corporation has helped me in many ways. It has helped me better understand on how to handle situations to the best of my abilities, it has taught me to have thicker skin and to not dwell on the things that are out of my control, it has also taught me how to be a leader in some ways and how to be a better team player even if there is friction amongst me and my colleagues, it has also helped me prepare for the hardships I will soon face once I decide to venture off into my future plans.

The many things I like about working at the Diamond Creek Restaurant is the interactions I get to have with guest especially if they from another part of the world, they share their culture, their stories and their history as I do the same with them to the best of my abilities. The other thing I like about working here is my fellow colleagues ranging from management Shawna Havatone, front of house supervisor Angel Choyguha, Front of house staff(s) Noshaw Powsey, Darrin Has The Pipe, Christian Marshall, and Kaelene Whatoname; Back of house supervisor Bowman Yaramata, Back of house staff(s) Gabriel Kane, Justin Susyatame, Noah Sinyella, Thorton Honga, Brave Honga and Marcus Whatoname. We are a team that rely on one another to get the job done, but of course we do face problems amongst ourselves but at the end of the day we get over those problems together and continue to do our job and have a good time to get through the days when it seems stressful.

As I near the end of this speech I would love to thank Shawna Havatone for nominating me for this, it means a lot that my work and effort is not going unnoticed. I am going to continue for 1 more year before taking off into the sunset and as I plan to stay; I hope me and the DCR team can do the best to our abilities to serve you council, the community and the future guest who come and dine in with us. I would also like to say thank you and I appreciate The DCR staff along with management and my supervisors for making these unsure times bright during this pandemic. Thank you!

DONYELL WALKER

ACCOUNTANT

ACCOUNTS PAYABLE DEPARTMENT - GCRC

Hello!

My name is Donnyell Walker, I am an enrolled Hualapai Tribal member. My parents are Clarence and Vickey Walker. I am the granddaughter of the late Clarence Walker Sr and Jeanette Sullivan of Peach Springs. I was born in Kingman but have lived in Peach Springs all my life. I am the only girl and the youngest of 6 brothers. My son Brayan is 5 years old and is currently in kindergarten. He is the light of my life and really keeps me grounded which I love about him. I am blessed to be able to raise my son in the same community I grew up in.

Gamyu'

I have been employed with GCRC for a little over 9 years. I started my employment with GCRC back in 2012 as a Housekeeper/Laundry attendant at the Hualapai Lodge. Which I was only working part time, as I was still a Senior in High School. When I graduated in May of 2013, I went from a part time employee to a full-time employee. In July of 2013, I transferred out to Grand Canyon West as a cashier for the Terminal Gift Shop, from the Gift Shop I transferred to the Tour Counter, this was around the time I was pregnant with my son and after I had my son in November of 2015, I decided I needed to be closer to home for my child. I then applied for a position at the Call Center. I was with the Call Center for about a year and a half and applied for Accounts Payable in August of 2017. I have worked in accounting for a little over four years, where our AP department went from a team of 4 to just myself being able to handle and run the AP process on my own. It is challenging but I feel like it has really helped me grow and shaped me into the employee I am today.

My goal is to continue my career in accounting with GCRC and further my education in accounting. I inspire to be like those I work with who have their higher education and are Hualapai Women. One of my ambitions is to work for the same company longer than my father has worked with the company he has been employed with, which he just hit 35 years in August.

Working with GCRC, I have gained a lot of knowledge and courage to run a department on my own. Being able to go from each department I worked with throughout my time with GCRC and knowing the different aspects and functions that go on throughout the corporation. I not only gained the knowledge but experienced it firsthand and know what it takes to really give our guests the best experience while visiting a place I get to call home.

I want to commend all GCRC employees for sticking it out through these hard times and helping build the GCRC corporation back to what it was before, but also building it to be greater. It isn't always easy taking on your day-to-day responsibilities but also being able to cover where you are needed. Not only am I an employee but being a shareholder when off the clock is a huge blessing.

I want to thank the GCRC Board of Directors and Hualapai Tribal Council for giving me the opportunity to introduce myself and give you a little background of my employment with GCRC.

Thank you!

Attached is some information and application to request a VA Headstone for your loved ones that may have served in the Armed Service. Look over the instructions and fill out accordingly.

GENERAL INFORMATION SHEET

CLAIM FOR STANDARD GOVERNMENT HEADSTONE OR MARKER

RESPONDENT BURDEN - Public reporting burden for this collection of information is estimated to average 15 minutes per response, including the time for reviewing instructions, searching existing data sources, gathering and maintaining the data needed, and completing and reviewing the collection of information. VA cannot conduct or sponsor a collection of information unless it has a valid OMB number. Your obligation to respond is voluntary, however, your response is required to obtain benefits. Send comments regarding this burden estimate or any other aspect of this collection of information, including suggestions for reducing this burden to the VA Clearance Officer (005R1B), 810 Vermont Avenue, NW, Washington, DC 20420. Please DO NOT send claims for benefits to this address.

BENEFIT PROVIDED

a. HEADSTONE OR MARKER

Only for Veterans who died on or after November 1, 1990 - Furnished for the grave of any eligible deceased Veteran. Will be provided for placement in private cemeteries regardless of whether or not the grave is already marked with a privately-purchased headstone or marker.

Only for Veterans who died before November 1, 1990 - Furnished for the UNMARKED GRAVE of any eligible deceased Veteran. The applicant must certify the grave is unmarked. For Veterans that served prior to World War I, a grave is considered marked when a headstone/marker displays the decedent's name only, or if the name was historically documented in a related document, such as by a number that is inscribed on a grave block and is recorded in a burial ledger. For service during and after World War I, a grave is considered marked if a headstone/marker displays the decedent's name and date of birth and/or death, even though the Veteran's military data is not shown.

b. MEMORIAL HEADSTONE OR MARKER - Furnished for placement in a cemetery only to commemorate a deceased eligible Veteran whose remains have not been recovered or identified, were buried at sea, donated to science, or cremated and the remains scattered. May not be used as a memento. Check box in block 28 and explain in block 27.

c. MEDALLION - Eligible Veterans may receive a Government-furnished headstone or marker, or a medallion, but not both. If requesting a medallion, please use VA Form 40-1330M.

WHO IS ELIGIBLE - Any deceased Veteran discharged under honorable conditions and any member of the Armed Forces of the United States who dies on active duty. A deceased Veteran discharged under conditions other than honorable may also be eligible. A copy of the deceased Veteran's discharge certificate (DD Form 214 or equivalent) or a copy of other official document(s) establishing qualifying military service must be attached. Do not send original documents; they will not be returned. Service after September 7, 1980, must be for a minimum of 24 months continuous active duty or be completed under special circumstances, e.g., death on active duty. Persons who have only limited active duty service for training while in the National Guard or Reserves are not eligible unless there are special circumstances, e.g., death while on active duty, or as a result of training. Reservists and National Guard members who, at time of death, were entitled to retired pay, or would have been entitled, but for being under the age of 60, are eligible; a copy of the Reserve Retirement Eligibility Benefits Letter must accompany the claim. Reservists called to active duty other than training and National Guard members who are Federalized and who serve for the period called are eligible. Service prior to World War I requires detailed documentation, e.g., muster rolls, extracts from State files, military or State organization where served, pension or land warrant, etc.

WHO CAN APPLY - Federal regulation defines "applicant" as the decedent's Next-of-Kin (NOK); a person authorized in writing by the NOK; or a personal representative authorized in writing by the decedent. Written authorization must be included with claim. A notarized statement is not required.

HOW TO SUBMIT A CLAIM

NOTE: Civil War Era headstones - In addition to the headstone and markers pictured, two special styles of upright headstones are available for those who served with Union Forces during the Civil War or for those who served in the Spanish-American War, and another for those who served with the Confederate States of America during the Civil War. Requests for these special styles should be made in block 27 of the claim. It is necessary to submit detailed documentation that supports eligibility. Inscriptions on these headstone types are intentionally limited to assure historic accuracy. For example, only rank above 'Private' was historically authorized; emblems of belief and the words 'Civil War' are not provided.

INSCRIPTION INFORMATION

MEMORIAL HEADSTONES AND MARKERS (remains are not buried). The words "In Memory Of" are mandatory and precede the authorized inscription data. The words "In Memory Of" are only inscribed when remains are not available.

MANDATORY ITEMS of inscription at Government expense are: Legal Name, Branch of Service, Year of Birth, Year of Death, and for State Veterans and National Cemeteries only, the section and grave number. Branches of Service are: U.S. Army (USA), U.S. Navy (USN), U.S. Air Force (USAF), U.S. Marine Corps (USMC), U.S. Coast Guard (USCG), U.S. Army Air Forces (USAAF), and other parent organizations authorized for certain periods of time; and special units such as Women's Army Auxiliary Corps (WAAC), Women's Air Force Service Pilots (WASP), U.S. Public Health Service (USPHS), and National Oceanic & Atmospheric Administration (NOAA). Different examples of inscription formats are illustrated above. More than one branch of service is permitted, subject to space availability.

OPTIONAL ITEMS are identified on the claim in boxes with bold outlines. These items may be included at Government expense if desired. Optional items include month and day of birth in block 5A, month and day of death in block 5B, highest rank attained in block 7, awards in block 9, war service in block 10, and emblem of belief in block 12. War service includes active duty service during a recognized period of war and the individual does not have to serve in the actual place of war, e.g., Vietnam may be inscribed if the Veteran served during the Vietnam War period, even though the individual never served in the country. Supporting documentation must be included with the claim if you wish to include the highest rank and/or awards.

ADDITIONAL ITEMS may be inscribed at Government expense if they are requested on the initial claim and space is available. Examples of additional items include appropriate terms of endearment, nicknames (in expressions such as "OUR BELOVED POPPY"), military or civilian credentials or accomplishments such as DOCTOR, REVEREND, etc., and special unit designations such as WOMEN'S ARMY CORPS, ARMY AIR CORPS, ARMY NURSE CORPS or SEABEES. All requests for additional inscription items should be stated in block 27, and are subject to VA approval. No graphics, emblems or pictures are permitted except available emblems of belief, the Medal of Honor, and the Southern Cross of Honor for Civil War Confederates.

RESERVED SPACE for future inscriptions at private expense, such as spousal or dependent data, is allowed if requested in block 27 and if space is available. Only two lines of space may be reserved on flat markers due to space limitations. Reserved space is unnecessary on upright marble or granite headstones as the reverse side is available for future inscriptions.

INCOMPLETE OR INACCURATE INFORMATION ON THE CLAIM MAY RESULT IN ITS RETURN TO THE CLAIMANT, A DELAY IN RECEIPT OF THE HEADSTONE OR MARKER, OR AN INCORRECT INSCRIPTION.

Department of Veterans Affairs		IMPORTANT: Please read the General Information Sheet before completing this form. Type or print clearly all information except for signatures. ROADSIDE HELP

GRAND OPENING!

Welcome all!

Hello, my name is Joseph Salazar, I have created and developed Roadside Help here in Peach Springs, AZ. Roadside Help is a sole proprietorship that is insured, licensed in Mohave County, and educated as an Advanced automotive technician. I grew up in the town of Peach Springs, and know all too well about the lack of resources here especially for automotive repairs.

I set out to establish an automotive repair resource in Peach Springs due to the lack of resources for our locals here in town. Everyone is typically left no choice but to drive their vehicle 45 miles to the resources we need to have vehicles serviced, repaired, and preventative maintenance performed. I spent years learning, and obtaining information on how to go about even opening up a automotive repair service here. I own all my own tools, and have reliable transportation to meet your needs upon request. It is my joy to announce Roadside Help is officially up and running!

Roadside Help offers all mobile repair services primarily in Peach Springs, but includes all surrounding areas within Mohave County. Contract work, POs, personal hire I am available for all needs whether you are a department here in Peach Springs, or a local needing some service work.

Services Roadside Help offers -
